

At Kyushu University, we have built accommodation for staff, in order to facilitate the efficient execution of work carried out by our directors and staff, and to contribute to the smooth operation of the University functions. The accommodation is provided to members of full-time staff at the University who fulfill certain conditions, as well as research fellows involved in large-scale research projects, and physicians and researchers working at the University hospitals. No deposit is required to enter the accommodation, but residents are required to return the property to its former state on leaving. Term of residency is 5 years. (Residents who meet the requirements, however, can apply to rent dormitory accommodations once more after the initial term is over. This means that the longest possible residence would be 10 years including the initial 5 years.)

The following is an outline of the accommodation available in Fukuoka.
