

Education > Payments by students

The amount paid, payment dates, reminders etc. sent to students are all defined by regulations, and students are required to pay their fees based on these regulations. Students who do not pay their admission fees or tuition fees even after three reminders (other than those who have applied for exemption) will be expelled.

Tuition fees

*Tuition fees/payment period, etc.

Tuition fees are paid in two installments, in the first and second semesters, at the following charges (payment deadline: 31st May in first semester, 30th November in second).

Category	Cost (semester)	Cost (whole year)
Undergraduate schools/graduate schools	267,900 yen	535,800 yen
Professional Graduate School	402,000 yen	804,000 yen

Reminders

Scope of reminder	Month issued	Target
Students who have not paid by June/December	July/January	Student
Students who have not paid by July/January	August/February	Student ' s parent or guardian
Students who have not paid by August/February	September/March	Notification of expulsion sent to Deans

*Payment of tuition fees during leave of absence or exclusion

- A: Permission to take a leave of absence applied before the beginning of a semester
If permission is given to take a leave of absence based on the application before the beginning of a semester, fees will be liable on a monthly basis
- B: Dropping out and permission to complete early or take a leave of absence once payment due date has passed

Tuition fees due for the period in question must be paid in full.

Note: If a student requests a leave of absence, to leave the University or be allowed to complete his/her course at an early date, please make sure you check the status of their payment of tuition fees with the Student Section of your department. Care must be taken, since unpaid tuition fees and admission fees have an impact on the student's registration. Tuition fees cannot be refunded once paid.
